

Edmund Chow is a drama educator who has directed and devised theatre with incarcerated populations in Singapore and New York since 2004. Having graduated from New York University with a Master's degree in Educational Theatre with a specialization in Applied Theatre, he now uses drama with therapeutic goals to support social-emotional needs.

He has worked with delinquents as part of their rehabilitation. Edmund now sits on the committee with the Singapore Drama Educators Association (SDEA), and overlooks community arts projects with special needs populations. He is also a recipient of the Arts Professional Scholarship from the National Arts Council.
