

An e-learning initiative by

Course Title: Seminar on Company's Constitution
Speakers: Bill Jamieson – Partner, Colin Ng & Partners LLP
Duration: 64 minutes

Course Description: This programme focuses on provisions in the Companies Act that impact the constitution of a private company, highlighting some of the recent amendments to the Companies Act that impact the constitution of a private company incorporated under the Act. It will aim to equip practitioners with working knowledge on the amendments of the Act to assist them to advise clients on the ramifications and applicability of the new provisions.

The speaker will also provide some suggested approaches to drafting certain aspects of the constitution to take account of the Act, including some of the more modern provisions concerning matters like voting rights and electronic communications.

About the Speaker:

Bill Jamieson – Partner, Colin Ng & Partners LLP

Bill Jamieson is an English lawyer who is registered to practise Singapore law in the areas of corporate law, banking and finance and securities laws. He enjoys working in the diverse and dynamic Asian market. His experience includes 10 years in the City of London and over 20 years in Asia, based in Singapore.

Before joining Colin Ng & Partners, Bill was a partner in an international law firm, and he has managed many cross-border corporate transactions and helped different types of client, ranging from individuals, entrepreneurs and corporates to investors, financial institutions and governments. The main lesson he has learnt is that every client and situation is different and requires a unique response rather than a standard answer.

Bill's practice now focuses on investment funds, private equity, M&A, employment and regulatory matters.

He is a member of the Law Society of Singapore's Corporate Practice Committee. Bill contributes to LexisNexis Practical Guidance Singapore know-how on joint ventures. He is a co-author of the Singapore chapter in the third edition of Investment Funds (Sweet & Maxwell, International Series) and the editor of the Singapore volume of Doing Business in Asia published by Thomson Reuters.